CANADA'S PREMIER OPENS CAMPAIGN

MESSAGE BROADCASTED OVER 23 CANADIAN RADIO STATIONS

Premier William Lyon Mackenzie King opened the Liberal campaign for the forthcoming Dominion Election, with a very inspiring speech delivered to a record audience at Brantford, Ontario, on Monday night of this week. This message was broadcasted to the people from the Atlantic to the Pacific over 23 broadcasting stations in Canada, and in Carbon the message was clear and distinct. This was the first speech over the entire national hook-up and the Premier announced that others would follow later, both by Hon. R. B. Bennett and himself.

Some of Mr. King's main topics were as follows, and satisfactory explanations were made to a number of questions that have been argued by the Conservatives in their campaign for political honors:

The Premier of Canada opened his address with the fact that the taxes of Canada had been greatly reduced in the last eight years and that the public debt had also been reduced a like amount, showing that the Liberal Administration was doing good for the country and the people and at the same time getting Canada out of debt. This Administration has reduced the Sales Tax (a tax placed by a Conservative Administration) from six to one per cent. In the last five years and if the Liberals are returned on July 28th there "will be no question as to what will happen to that one per cent."

Mr. King explained that the penny postage had been returned to the people of Canada in 1926 and later the penny postage rate was in force in the entire British Empire. This was a tax that affected every person in Canada.

Another strong point of Premier King's in favor of the Liberal administration was that in the sixty years of Confederation, the governments of Canada have only shown a financial surplus in 11 years. Out of these 11 years the Liberal administration is responsible for seven, and these seven have been within the last eight and one half years, showing that the country is on a strong business and financial basis and that the present Administration is doing all that any government of a country can do.

An important reduction in the last few years in taxation was that of the Income Tax, a tax that has affected many of the business men in every community. In time the Liberal administration hope to abolish this tax altogether.

Another point in favor of the Liberal Administration, stated Premier King, and which the Conservative campaigners have stressed is the fact that Canadian boys and girls by the thousands have been going to the United States to seek employment. Mr. King pointed out that during the Great War that work in Canada had been slow and that the United States, who did not enter the War until 1917, had been built up and manufacturing had been almost doubled to supply the demands of soldiers in other countries. At the time there was no unemployment. Now, however, since the war there is not such a demand for this labor and figures show that there are more Canadians returning to Canada each year than there are going to the United States.

Premier King stated that Mr. Bennett had been stressing the unemployment question in the West. Mr. King agreed that there was unemployment and that everything was being done at the present time to relieve the situation as far as the Government was concerned, but he also stated that although there may be some unemployment now, what would be the case had General McRae, the Conservative member for Vancouver, been able to pass a bill in the House whereby the Government would spend $300,000,000 to bring out 300,000 settlers and place them in the West?

Mr. King's next question was the Tariff and he stated that the policy

SCHOOL OF CO-OPERATION AT OLDS ON JULY 2-3-4-5

Young people as well as adults who are offered the opportunity to attend the School of Co-operation at Olds, July 2-5, should not fail to accept.

Two other girls and myself attended last year and we were very pleasantly surprised at the interesting program offered the audiences.

Speakers from Canada and the United States who have worked with the different phases of co-operation, gave such interesting talks that none of the young people missed any of it.

The social side of the program is far from neglected and there are many recreations for young and old.

of the Liberal Administration had been to encourage the basic industries of the country such as lumbering, mining, farming and manufacturing and that this has been done by keeping down the cost of manufacturing. In other words, raw material that cannot be obtained in Canada has had a low tariff so that the Canadian manufacturers and producers may compete in the world markets, and they are competing most satisfactorily. However, Mr. King pointed out that although the Canadians were importing quite a bit of raw material, figures show that they were exporting a greater amount than they imported and therefore conditions were not as black as the Conservative opposition have stated.

In summing up these points the Premier of Canada stated that Canada was in a sound financial condition, taxation had been reduced, the public debt had been reduced, the country is prosperous in spite of the crop conditions of the past year and the stock market crash, and the recent tariff reductions have considerably reduced the cost of living for us all. 30

HOT, DRY WINDS DOING DAMAGE TO GROWING CROPS

The past week has been one continuous dust storm and as a result many of the fields of growing grain are looking pretty sick and rain is needed immediately to revive the dying wheat. Many of the fields near Carbon have been completely ruined by wind, although this condition is by no means general, the crops to the north, south and east being in fair condition with little soil drifting reported. However, the winds are warm and the land is drying out rapidly. The only remedy for the situation is rain.

GAS WELL DRILLED DEPTH OF 180 FT.

Drilling on the leases of the Carbon Exploration Company started last week and now the well is about 180 feet deep. Casing has been run down this far and the hole has been cemented so as to keep out the water that was encountered. Gas has been struck at this depth and will burn if ignited. It is the intention of the Company to drill this well to a depth of 400 feet at least so as to obtain a substantial gas flow, in order to get outside capital interested in the field. It is now known that this gas is here, but investors have to be shown before they will take a chance, and it is to be hoped that drilling will go ahead without delay.

The gas well is being drilled on the leases between the old Pope ranch and the W. Talbot farm.

A general meeting of the above mentioned Company will be held in the Municipal office on Monday evening, June 23rd, and further development will be discussed.

Mr. Poxon brings honour to himself and the Carbon Golf Club and we wish him success in his endeavor to lift the Alberta championship.

The subject of immigration has for many years been a live topic in Canada, and never more so than during the past year or two. There is, however, this difference, that whereas for many decades the discussion of the subject was largely as to ways and means whereby a large volume of immigration could be secured, in more recent years the thought of our people has rather been directed towards the successful colonization of the new comers.

That is to say, where at one time the main objective was to get immigrants in large numbers to settle upon our vacant lands, the main objective now is to see that those who do come make a real success of their venture, adapt themselves to the new environment in which they find themselves, and, by associating themselves with the life and activities of the communities in which they locate, identify themselves with Canada and become Canadian citizens in thought and aspiration as well as in name.

To a greater extent than ever before native-born Canadians, and those of our citizenship who call the British Isles "home," have come to realize and appreciate the fact that immigrants coming to Canada from lands other than those under the British flag or speaking the English language, are really, even keenly, anxious to become Canadians in the full meaning of the term. Appreciation of this fact is helping to break down old barriers of prejudice, and the English-speaking Canadian is becoming more and more anxious to co-operate with and assist his fellow-Canadian or foreign extraction.

In a recent issue of this paper there appeared an article in the news columns outlining a plan originated by the Canadian National Railways, under the direction of Dr. W. J. Black, the directing head of the departments of Agriculture and Colonization of that system, having as its object the encouragement of community progress and development, and the attainment of the fullest possible measure of Canadian citizenship by those rural communities of the three prairie provinces which are of European origin.

The plan is simple, but far-reaching and of tremendous importance. It involves the carrying out of a series of competitions among such communities, to be held annually for a period of five years, with three substantial prizes, of $1,000, $500, and $250 respectively, to be awarded each year in each of the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta on the understanding that the money be utilized in community work of some progressive nature.

In other words, such of these rural municipalities or groups of school districts within municipalities in which the population is made up of people of continental European origin of the first or second generation, which display the greatest interest in co-operation among themselves to promote education, public health, and a better class of agriculture, and show the best results, will be awarded these prizes, which, in turn, are to be used in still further promoting progressive community betterment.

The community which through the co-operative action of its people shows the best schools, the most regular attendance of pupils, the largest percentage of children going on for secondary or university training, which takes the keenest interest in matters of public health, social welfare, music, arts and handicrafts, which enthusiastically supports community organizations such as agricultural societies, co-operative marketing pools, women's institutes and home maker's clubs, libraries, etc., or which evince the greatest interest and reveal the greatest progress in the improvement of agricultural methods, will be the winners of these substantial prizes.

But the greatest gain to such communities will not be the winning of the prizes, but in the direct and indirect benefits which will accrue to each individual and the community as a whole from the practice of these worthwhile things. The prizes are, after all, but an additional incentive to work for the welfare and advancement of the community which the people therein call "home." The prizes are but a tangible encouragement to excel all other communities in real constructive Canadian citizenship, to demonstrate through a determination to make use of and emphasize the best Canada has to offer in the development of their particular section of the Dominion.

Strange things are happening in the murky regions of the ocean bed. In the Pacific the bed has been rising so much that shipping has become endangered. Off the west coast of Nicaragua the charts show an ocean depth of 222 feet, but the figure is now actually 2 feet. Another sounding showed the actual depth to be 51 feet where the chart showed 1,608 feet. Sudden upheavals on the ocean floor recently worked havoc among the telegraph cables; many of the stoutest were snapped like string, including one of the latest, which normally takes five different sets of messages at once in each direction. When a break occurs the cable ship goes out; delicate apparatus aboard shows the break within two yards of the actual spot, and dragging commences. Up comes the cable. A new length is inserted to make the join, and so critical is the actual work of joining the strands inside that the film of grease on a man's hand can actually prevent the join from being effective.

Dull eyes mean misery and weakness — a sure sign of a bloodless condition. Anaemic girls and women have dull, heavy eyes with dark lines underneath. The bright eyed girl or woman is always happy and well.

There is one way to make the eyes bright—to bring the glow of health to pale cheeks—that is to invigorate the body with new blood—rich, red health-giving blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do this and they do it well. Concerning them Mrs. Robert Devitt, Brougham, Ont., says: "My daughter became so ill and nervous we had to take her out of school. She was pale and thin; her eyes were dull and the least exertion upset her. I began giving her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in less than six months you would not know her. She gained in weight and strength and is now the picture of health."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Wellington is 85 and lives at Mombasa, Africa, so that the pension will care for his simple needs. Matthew was with his master at his death, helped to embalm the body, and accompanied the coffin from the wilds to the African coast. The response to the appeal from Scotland was gratifying, and the money is now being sent to the old man through the Resident Commissioner of Mombasa.

PRINCE MAKES HIS FIRST WORLD-WIDE BROADCAST

Glasgow, Scotland.—Making his first world-wide radio broadcast, the Prince of Wales, standing on the famous Clydesbank wharves on the occasion of the launching of the Canadian Pacific Railway liner "Empress of Britain," said the building of the new liner was the most important milestone in the recent history of the British mercantile marine.

The vessel, the Prince said, represented the last word in ship-building and as to appointments would be found to have no rival. The building of what the Prince described as "this wonder ship" was another sign of the sound imperial policy of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

His Royal Highness went on to say the C.P.R. had built 16 vessels in Great Britain since the war at a cost of £20,000,000 and this when ship-building in Great Britain was at a low ebb.

Winnipeg, Man. — Radio brought the voice of His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales from Great Britain to Western Canada as clearly as though he had been speaking directly through the microphone at one of the big Canadian stations. Listeners in all over the Prairie Provinces heard the heir to the British throne launch the new Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Britain," his companion speakers being Lord Aberconway, British shipping magnate; and E. W. Beatty, K.C., President of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Reception through CJRX at Fleming, Sask., and CKY, at Winnipeg, two units in the chain of 91 stations in Canada and in the United States that received the broadcast over beam wireless from England to Yamachi, Quebec, was excellent, and enabled newspapers to take verbatim the report of the speeches of His Royal Highness and Mr. Beatty.

Settles Old Dispute

Nova Scotia Not Liable For Militia Expenses During Strike

Ottawa, Ont. — The Province of Nova Scotia is "not liable to pay to his Majesty in the right of the Dominion all expenses and costs incurred by reason of the calling out of part of the active militia in aid of the civil power in Cape Breton" during June, 1925. This was the majority judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada, delivered by the chief justice here. Mr. Justice Newcombe dissenting, and Mr. Justice Cannon finding that liability was "conditional."

This settles a five-year-old dispute between the Dominion and the province in which the Dominion claimed reimbursement in the sum of $133,116.73—the cost of despatching and maintaining troops of the permanent force in Cape Breton during the coal-miner strike of 1925.

Simple Service For Late F. E. Trautman

Many Attend Funeral Of C.P.R. Official At Fort William

Fort William, Ont.—Impressively simple obsequies were held here for the late F. E. Trautman, for the last 18 years Canadian Pacific Press representative in Western Canada.

He was buried in the city where a large part of his career as a pioneer western newspaperman was passed as editor of the Fort William Times-Journal.

The cities of Port Arthur and Fort William were officially represented as was the railway company, and a large number of private citizens also paid their last respects.

Interment was made in the family plot in Mountain View cemetery.

Underworld Haunts Raided By Police

Six Hundred Suspects Are Arrested By Chicago Squad

Chicago, Ill.—Nearly 600 alleged hoodlums were rounded up as a special "strong arm" police squad slashed into underworld haunts, bent on ridding Chicago "for all time" of criminals.

Stirred to drastic action for solution of the murder of Alfred ("Jake") Lingle, Tribune reporter, and other gangland slaughters, the squads, armed with shotguns, revolvers and tear bombs, crashed the thug hangouts with a vengeance. Patrol wagons, loaded, began arriving at police headquarters in a stream shortly after 10 p.m. and at midnight there was no sign of a let up.

The prisoners poured in so fast that the attaches of the bureau of identification were swamped and extra details were called on to assist in the work of booking.

As soon as word of the raids was circulated, a veritable swarm of attorneys, bondsmen and others interested in seeking liberation of the suspects also descended on headquarters, but their efforts came to naught, bail being refused in each instance.

Jury Acquits Oliver On Assault Charge

Son Of Ex-Premier Of B.C. Found Not Guilty

Vernon, B.C.—It took less than 20 minutes for the assize court to bring in a verdict of not guilty against Charles Oliver, son of former Premier John Oliver, charged with assaulting Dr. V. E. Latimer, in Penticton, last November 25. It was almost a foregone conclusion following the address of Chief Justice Morrison to the jury that Oliver would be acquitted and a murmur of satisfaction ran around the packed court room when the verdict was given.

Only four witnesses for the crown were examined and little time was lost by Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C., chief defence counsel in cross-examination. Mr. Maitland put in no defence but immediately opened his address to the jury.

The jury retired at 3.40 p.m. and rendered their verdict at 4.00 p.m.

Legion Objects To Fiction War Books

Condemns Those Not Founded On Actual Facts

Cardiff, Wales.—War should in no circumstances be made the subject of works of fiction, was the view expressed at the annual conference of the British Legion here.

War books came in for a good deal of criticism and a resolution was adopted condemning books in which the author does not draw on actual facts and personal experiences. The elimination of war as a subject for fiction was urged as a measure of respect for dead and maimed soldiers.

Another resolution urged the council of the Legion to take steps to counter the "insidious propaganda" contained in books which slandered the character of Great Britain and belittled the principles for which she entered the war.

Calgary, Alta.—Hon. R. B. Bennett is back at his western home after firing the opening gun of his election campaign at Winnipeg, followed by a second speech at Regina. The Conservative leader arrived in Calgary at a late hour, but a large crowd was on hand to greet him at the station and wish the opposition chieftain success in his campaign.

The assemblage cheered the Conservative leader time and again, and they lined up to shake him by the hand. The Calgarian Highlanders, of which Mr. Bennett is honorary colonel, were on hand and rendered music of welcome.

New Order For Stockyards

May Be Permitted To Do Business In Restricted Areas

Ottawa, Ont.—Public stockyards were excluded from the restrictions placed on a designated area while testing for bovine tuberculosis is conducted, by an order-in-council passed by the Federal Government. It will mean that the Minister of Agriculture may issue an order that a public stockyard in a restricted area may be permitted to carry on its business just as if the area had not been established.

Saskatoon is the only place in Canada affected at the present time, officials of the Department of Agriculture said. While no order had been passed affecting the stock yards in that city, one is expected, they said.

When tests of bovine tuberculosis are being conducted in a specified area, there can be no movement inward except that of tested cattle. Stockyards protested that this worked an injustice on them and that it seriously affected their business. This led to the order-in-council which excludes them from the restrictive terms.

Trans-Atlantic Trip Is Postponed

R-100 Not Coming To Canada Until End Of July

Ottawa, Ont.—The R-100 will not begin her trans-Atlantic trip to Canada until after the general election on July 28. This was conveyed to the Minister of National Defence, Hon. J. L. Ralston, in a cable received here from the British Government.

The postponement of the dirigible's flight is in accordance with an agreement between Canada and Great Britain.

The start of the flight will be made during the last three days of July, the cable said.

Could Not Be Prevented

Boston.—No practical measures have been suggested which could have prevented or minimized the force of the 1929 stock market panic, according to Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange.

Ships Collide In Fog

Many Lives Lost When Passenger Steamer Rams Oil Tanker

Boston, Mass.—Flaming oil, spurting from the depths of a stricken oil tanker, believed to have been the "Pinthis," of Fall River, was thought to have claimed the lives of more than 40 persons aboard that ship and the passenger liner "Fairfax," outbound from Boston, when they collided in Massachusetts Bay.

So suddenly did the tragedy occur that not a single survivor of the tanker was believed to have escaped the fog-shrouded inferno which followed the impact.

At least a score of the "Fairfax's" passengers and crew were unaccounted for while the "Pinthis" carried a crew of 19.

Aboard the big passenger liner scenes of wildest confusion succeeded the shock of the crash. Men and women, believing the ship doomed, hurled themselves into the sea only to perish amidst the raging oil which poured from the tanker in all directions. Others were burned in their berths by the white heat of the fire which seared the port side of the ship.

The flames which swept both craft melted their radio antenna and temporarily ended possibility of summoning aid. The tanker, afire from stem to stern, settled slowly into the water plunging from sight 20 minutes after the crash.

Ship Receives Page Of "Evening World"

Was Sent By Radio And Picked Up Intact

New York.—For the first time a newspaper has been spread out on waves of ether and picked up intact by a steamer at sea.

The experiment was successfully concluded when the first page of the Evening World was sent to the United States liner "America," at the moment 2,310 miles from New York. The paper was sent by the Radio Corporation of America's new photo-radio apparatus.

A mysterious cylinder, with purple ink, spun out intact the newspaper page that had appeared on the sidewalks of New York. Pictures and type were reproduced as clearly as the city, while the steamer was nearing her port of call, Plymouth, England.

Winnipeg Lawyer Going To Norway

Will Represent Government Of Canada At Coming Celebration

Winnipeg, Man.—James C. Berg, Winnipeg barrister and a prominent worker in Norse societies for many years, received word of his appointment by Premier Mackenzie King as representative of the Dominion Government to the celebration of the nine hundredth anniversary of the introduction of Christianity into Norway, to be held at Trondhjem, Norway, in July and August.

Mr. Berg is the son of one of the earliest Norwegian settlers in western Canada. Representatives of Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia governments are expected to sail with Berg, early in July.

FIRE DESTROYS GRAIN ELEVATOR AT PORT ARTHUR

Port Arthur, Ont.—Three hundred thousand dollars damage is estimated as result of the destruction by fire of the Union Terminal Elevator work-house. The building broke into flames from unexplained cause and the conflagration raged for more than ten hours before it was brought under control.

Thousands of lake-head residents, roused from their beds by the crackling of flames and the commotion caused by the action of all available fire-fighting equipment, gathered at the scene. The reflection of the flames, which swirled to 100 feet in the air, cast a red glow over the entire lake-front in the darkness.

Estimate of the damage was unofficial, as the head offices of the company are in Winnipeg, and representatives at the lake-head would hazard no figure as probable loss.

Fifty thousand bushels of grain stored in the work-house were destroyed as the flames roared through the structure, spurning efforts of firemen to place it under control. Eleven empty box cars belonging to Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways took fire on the siding adjoining the burning building and were completely destroyed.

Winnipeg, Man.—Officials of Union Terminal Limited, refused to estimate loss as the result of fire destruction of the company's work-house at Port Arthur. It was stated at the head office here that "absolutely no figures are available."

Only the cement tanks of the Union Terminal plant remain intact. The grain they contained may be ruined by heat. The watchman had a narrow escape getting out in the darkness after the light went out. Heat from the burning pile was intense.

Successor Not Appointed

Australia Has Not Yet Chosen New Governor-General

Canberra, Australia.—In well-informed political circles it is stated Lord Somers, governor of the State of Victoria, will act as governor-general of Australia for about six months after the departure of the retiring Governor-General, Lord Stonehaven, in October.

The reason given is that Premier Scullin has asked to have the appointment of Lord Stonehaven's successor deferred in order to enable him to consult the Dominions office when he is in London attending the Imperial conference in October.

Some time ago the appointment of a native-born Australian to the post was mooted and the name of Rt. Hon. Sir Isaac Isaacs, chief justice of Australia, was mentioned. Premier Scullin at the time said there was nothing to prevent the appointment of an Australian.

Contracts End In December

Married Women Will Not Be Employed In Winnipeg Schools

Winnipeg, Man. — Married women will not in future be employed as teachers in Winnipeg schools, it was decided at a meeting of the school board.

Married women now employed will be given notice that their contract will terminate December 31, 1930, unless exceptional circumstances prevail to warrant continued employment after that date.

It was also decided, in view of the existing unemployment situation, that the board will "record its disapproval of the acceptance by its employees of remunerative vocational employment."

Apply For Oil Leases

Prince Albert, Sask.—Saskatchewan's latest oil boom is apparently gathering momentum. The Dominion land office here has received two applications for oil leases on two sections of land in the vicinity of Kakwa, 17 miles south of Hudson Bay Junction, where oil and natural gas was struck by water well drillers recently. The applications have been forwarded to Ottawa for approval.

When the new Canadian Pacific coastal steamship "Princess Elizabeth" was being welcomed to Vancouver recently with a civic luncheon, at which city and port officials praised the company for its initiative and foresight in building up such a fine coastal fleet, Mayor W. H. Harkin, Vancouver port superintendent, promised to present the first bride who travelled on the new ship with a bouquet. So when Mrs. L. Goodge boarded the ship with the groom, she was duly handed a bouquet by George Fitch, secretary to His Honor, as the first honeymooner to take the Vancouver-Victoria trip on the "Elizabeth." Picture shows, left to right, Captain R. W. McMurray, marine superintendent, B.C. Coast Steamship Service; L. Goodge and Mrs. Goodge, and Mr. Fitch.

EDOUARD J. ROULEAU,
Editor and Publisher

TELLING THE TRUTH

Robert Quillen has for several years been editor of the Fountain Inn (S.C.) Tribune, but is believed to be on his way to another clime at the present writing. If so, surely he is happy for he is one of the few newsmen in history who managed to fulfill a desire that is almost universal in the craft, yet is perpetually suppressed.

Last week Mr. Quillen wrote a report of a local wedding as he had wanted to write one all his newspaper life. After stating the names of the bridal couple, their parents, the clergyman and noting the time and the place, the account ran as follows:

"The groom is a popular young bum who hasn't done a lick of work since he got shipped in the middle of his junior year at college. He manages to dress well and keep a supply of spending money because his dad is a soft hearted old fool who takes up his bad checks instead of letting him go to jail where he belongs.

"The bride is a skinny, fast little idiot, who has been kissed and handled by every boy in town since she was 12 years old. She paints like a Sioux Indian, sucks cigarettes in secret and drinks pop corn liquor when she is out joy riding in her dad's car at night. She doesn't know how to cook or keep house.

The house was newly plastered for the wedding and the exterior painted, thus appropriately carrying out the decorative scheme, for the groom was newly plastered and the bride newly painted.

"The groom wore a rented dinner suit over athletic underwear of imitation silk. His pants were held up by pale green suspenders. His number 8 patent leather shoes matched his state in tightness and harmonized nicely with the axle grease on his hair.
In addition to his jag he carried a pocket knife, a bunch of keys, a dun for the ring and his usual look of imbecillity.

"The young couple will make their home with the bride's parents—which means they will sponge on the old man until he dies and then she will take in washing.

"Postscript by editor: This may be the last issue of the Tribune, but my life ambition has been to write up one wedding and tell the truth. Now that is done death can have no sting.

WHY MEN LEAVE HOME

(By Bruce Barton)

One hot summer evening I dropped into a club and discovered a well-known playwright and an equally well known composer. Knowing that each of them had a cool and beautiful place in the country, I expressed surprise.

"You wonder why I'm here," said the dramatist. "So does my wife. She thinks I'm crazy to leave a lovely home for a hot little cell in this club.
Moreover she resents my absence as an implied criticism of her own charm and power to keep me happy.

"The truth is that when I'm working on a play I can stand the pleasure of home life just about so long, and then I simply have to go. No matter how lovely the children are, they do interrupt. And wifely attention and the ministrations of friends are nothing but a nuisance when you are driving your mind as hard as it will go. I can get more done in this little bare room than I can ever do in my beautiful home."

The composer said, "Me too," and I myself had to confess that I was in town for much the same reason.

In a magazine I read some very interesting reminiscences of the philosopher William James, set down by Mrs. Evans, a long time friend.

"With the happiest and most harmonious family to be imagined, William James was nevertheless a perpetually restless and unsatisfied soul," said Mrs. Evans. "Now and again he would rebel, and exclaim, 'I am going away for a fortnight to be alone with God, after so much family immersion and unfulfilled household responsibilities."

On one occasion, when a large party was being entertained in his home, he bounced suddenly out of the parlour, seized an unsuspecting undergraduate by the shoulders, and cried: "This place is hell. This is the way out."
And he hurried the dazed youngster through the back door.

Man is a strange animal, carrying beneath his civilized surface all of the instincts of his savage days. One of these instincts is the powerful yearning to be at home with the woman and children he loves. Another, equally powerful is the urge to be away by himself, as his savage ancestor went away, into the deep woods.

Foolish wives feel hurt and resentful when this second instinct asserts itself. They protest, break into tears, and are generally unpleasant.

The wise wife smiles and says "Go, my darling." And knows that the quicker he goes the more glad he'll be to come back.

CALGARY EXHIBITION AND STAMPEDE JULY 7th TO 12th

Once again the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede hopes to make new records at their annual show, July 7th to 17th. Active preparations have been going on for several months in the splendid new Administration Building erected on the Exhibition Grounds and said to be the finest exhibition office in Canada.

Prize lists and illustrated literature are now available for distribution and may be had on application to the Exhibition offices, Calgary. There is a prize list for the general exhibition classes, a prize list for the Stampede and a special race programme.

It is expected that fully 275,000 people will attend this year's Exhibition and Stampede, the attendance having increased from 97,000 in 1922 to 258,000 last year. The event is unique in thrills and interest and includes Live stock, Industrial, Domestic and Government exhibits, the Stampede, the Stampede Parade, Morning Indian displays, running races, Cowboy Ball, Band Contest, marvellous Vaudeville and Fireworks.

The Calgary Exhibition has the second largest grandstand in Canada and yet it is not large enough to accommodate the tremendous crowds who wish to see the spectacular programme which is arranged each year for Exhibition patrons. Last year 24,000 people enjoyed the marvellous Saturday night programme, undoubtedly a record only exceeded by the Canadian National Exhibition.

Special passenger fares will be in force from Saskatchewan Alberta and British Columbia mainland points, and tourist rates may be obtained from any place to Banff and Lake Louise, with stopover privileges at Calgary.

The week's events start with the wonderful Stampede Parade at 10:00 a.m. Monday and close with the marvellous display by the Indians, the presentation of prizes to Stampede champions and the greatest fireworks programme ever seen in Western Canada.

Sleeping accommodation at hotels or private homes may be obtained through the Alberta Hotel Association, Calgary. Before or after the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede is an excellent time to visit Banff and Lake Louise, reached in three hours over fine hard surfaced roads from Calgary. Exhibition entries close June 21st and Stampede entries close July 3rd.

provided moisture for the present, but there is little reserve. Damage from soil drifting has been important, particularly in the central area where the damage ranges from 15 to 30 per cent.

Alberta, Northeastern Area—Wheat is up four inches, but winds have caused some damage, rain is needed.

Southeastern Area—Wheat is six inches above ground and has benefited from showers, but rain will be required by next week. Western Area—Crops are in only fair condition, winds and soil drifting having caused some damage although conditions in the southern sections are favourable where there has been ample moisture. Sugar beet acreage is 14,000 compared with 9000 acres last year, and prospects are for largest crop on record.

Manitoba—Seeding has practically been completed and all grains are making satisfactory progress. The wheat plant is well rooted and vigorous. Moisture conditions are satisfactory for the present, but the reserve is low.

The trans-Atlantic speed record between the ports of Liverpool and Saint John, was broken recently by the arrival at the latter port of the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of York, after a crossing from Liverpool which took six days, 22 hours and 14 minutes. According to local shipping men this is the first time in the history of the port that a crossing has been made in under seven days.

Twelve thousand pounds of Quebec maple sugar and syrup were handled daily during the latter part of April by the Canadian Pacific Express Company to points overseas, the Prairie Provinces and Ottawa, constituting what is claimed to be a record movement of this dainty. Outside commercial uses, demand for this product arises on the part of individuals who make a practice of shipping it to relatives and friends in the Old Country and the west of Canada.

Close on six million dollars were spent on New Brunswick roads during 1929, being reconstruction of 221 miles of main trunk highways and 1138 miles of secondary roads. This is regarded as the most extensive programme of highway construction, improvement and maintenance ever undertaken in the Province.

Snapped in Hyde Park, London, England, recently, Hon. Barnaby Howard, little son of Lord Strathcona and descendant of the great Canadian who was one of the founders of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was photographed kissing his cousin, the small daughter of the Hon. Mrs. Arthur Howard. Both children are living links with the great past when one of the major events in the history of Canada was in the making.

BANK OF MONTREAL CROP REPORT

General—The condition of the wheat crop in the Prairie Provinces is estimated at around 90 per cent of normal, with Manitoba better than Saskatchewan and Alberta. The advantage gained in earlier seeding has been counteracted by cool weather and damage from soil drifting; rain over large areas will be needed very shortly. In Ontario cool weather and lack of rain enabled seeding to be completed throughout the Province ten days earlier than usual. All growth is ahead of the average. New meadows and fall wheat suffered severely from winter killing and their acreage is reduced. In the Maritime Provinces planting and seeding have been practically completed under almost ideal conditions. In British Columbia general conditions are satisfactory and prospects for nearly all crops are promising. Details follow:

Saskatchewan, Northern area—Seeding has been completed except for feed crops, with sufficient moisture for the present. Cool weather and frosts have retarded growth. Southern Area—All crops are in, and recent rains have

Prince of Wales to Launch Empress of Britain

A royal compliment to Canada as much as to the "Canadian Pacific", was the opinion of E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway and chairman of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, Ltd., when announcing that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales had consented to act as sponsor of the new giant liner of the Canadian Pacific fleet, the "Empress of Britain."

"We are greatly gratified", said Mr. Beatty, to learn that His Royal Highness has promised to find time to go up to the Clyde to sponsor our new ship. The Prince of Wales is one of the busiest men in Europe, and I take it that he has been led to do so out of his love for this country and his keen interest in all things Canadian."

The "Empress of Britain" will be the largest ship built in Great Britain since 1914.

The ceremonial launching, at which the Prince of Wales will be the central figure, will take place at the Clydeside yards of John Brown & Company, the builders, on June 11, which, incidentally will be the first anniversary of the opening of largest hotel in the British Empire, the Royal York, Toronto, by the Governor-General of Canada.

The "Empress of Britain", besides being the greatest liner entering a Canadian port, will be the most palatial and up-to-date vessel afloat and, with her speed, will make possible a transatlantic crossing of five days or less between Canada and Great Britain, and will greatly shorten the journey between Europe and Canada and the Middle and Western States. The mammoth liner will be in service next summer, making regular voyages between Southampton, Cherbourg and Quebec.

Motorists in many parts of the United States, having exhausted the possibilities of travel in Eastern United States, are now looking to Western Canada as their new Mecca. ## Jubilee Impressions

A Few Reasons Why Manitoba Is Holding Celebration

The enthusiasm with which the people of Manitoba are preparing to celebrate the Diamond Jubilee of the Province, on July 15 next, might lead an outsider, unfamiliar with our progress and development, to enquire what it was all about. He would need to be told that the Province was formally admitted into the Canadian Confederation on July 15, 1870, and that the present generation was showing its pride and satisfaction at what had been accomplished in the sixty-year period.

The outstanding fact in connection with Manitoba's history as a Province is that her people have practically achieved the impossible in the production of foodstuffs. One need not go far back into the annals of the nineteenth century to find a positive and emphatic declaration of opinion on the country's resources, from a man whose position should have given him the right to speak with authority. He was foolish enough to insist, on more than one occasion, that wheat would never grow in any place more than ten miles from the Red River. His cue was taken up by many lesser "authorities," and the whole territory was apparently doomed and damned as a source of cereal food supplies. What has been the real situation? Manitoba wheat has secured a firm position of leadership in the markets of the world, and has held that distinction for more than forty years. Without desiring to reflect in any way upon the fertility of the Red River district, it may be added that most of the wheat is produced much more than ten miles from that famous waterway. Oats and barley add their testimony in rebuttal of the foolish prophecies of men who should have realized the value of silence. The cultivation of grain, in fact, has provided the foundation for Manitoba's progress. Farmers who knew their business came here from other lands, mostly from Ontario, to take a look at the soil and examine the other elements of crop production. In nearly every case one look was enough. Those who stayed and worked with energy and determination, succeeded in establishing forever the reputation of this Province as a centre of high-class agricultural prosperity. They were not daunted by weird tales of visitations of grasshoppers, drought, frost, hail, floods and all the other torments of the "crape-hanging" era. Nor did they flinch on the rare occasions when they encountered these torments, singly or in combination. They persevered and won through; perhaps they did not realize at the time that they were "achieving the impossible."

The dire predictions regarding the possibilities, or rather the impossibilities, of grain production were repeated and multiplied when it came to the consideration of other items relating to human sustenance. They were, it seems, to be disregarded as possible factors in the economic life of the new Province. Could live stock, for instance, be expected to survive in a land where even the buffaloes, with unlimited grazing areas at their disposal, found it difficult to exist? Absurd, according to the wisecracks of that day. But the agricultural pioneers did not agree with them. They "knew their onions," but they knew even more about their hay and grass, and chopstuffs, and straw-stacks and shelter and stabling. They knew, too, that if a little care were exercised in choosing the proper breeds, and some degree of special attention were accorded the stock during the comparatively short periods of abnormal winter weather, good results could be obtained. The justification of their faith is to be found in the prize distributions at leading stock fairs throughout Canada and the United States during the past thirty years. Manitoba cattle have held their own with the best that could be produced anywhere. It is a matter of gratification to the people of Manitoba that her first citizen, his Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, James Duncan McGregor, has risen to his eminent position in the community largely through his success as a breeder of pure-bred cattle. That success has been due to intelligence, persistence, hard work and a refusal to believe that "it couldn't be done."

The story is the same in regard to other phases of farm activity. Who is there among the middle-aged people of Manitoba who does not remember the day when butter from Eastern Canada was considered essential to human existence here? A quarter of a century ago it was almost impious to suggest that this Province should manufacture its own butter. Today the Manitoba product is known and appreciated all over Canada, and in many foreign markets as well. During the past ten years it has won most of the cups and prizes at leading exhibitions in every part of the Dominion, and has set a standard in the manufacture of butter which is a model for creamery-men in all the other provinces. As for eggs, the leading authority in the Dominion is on record with the statement that for excellent flavor and food value the product of the Manitoba hen is invaluable. Honey represents another instance where local achievement in the matter of quality has crowded out the foreign article. The canny housewife who buys a pail or jar of Manitoba honey knows she is getting the best that is to be had.

The refusal to lie down or retreat in the face of serious problems has always been a characteristic of Manitoba pioneers, and luckily that fine spirit persists in most of their descendants. Courage, patience, enthusiasm, perseverance and idealism, coupled with a lavish expenditure of muscular energy and perspiration, has gone far towards giving Manitoba so proud a place in Canada and in the Empire. Incidentally the prophets of famine and starvation have been put to shame. That in itself is worth while.—Old Timer.

Florida has a longer coast line than any other state in the Union.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JUNE 22

THE RISEN LORD AND THE GREAT COMMISSION

Golden Text: "Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all the nations." — Matthew 28:19.

Lesson: Matthew 28:1-20.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 116:1-9.

Explanations and Comments

The Empty Sepulcher and Its Message, verses 1-8.—The Gospels do not describe the resurrection; they report it simply and briefly. Matthew tells of the visit of Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to the sepulcher late on Saturday, the Jewish Sabbath, as Sunday, the first day of the week, began to dawn. Mary Magdalene was from Magdala, a city on the western shore of the Sea of Galilee, who had been freed from "seven demons," Luke 8:2, and who is often wrongly confounded with "the woman who was a sinner," Luke 7. "The other Mary" was the mother of James, Mark 16:1. These two had been present at the crucifixion and the burial, Matthew 27:56, 61.

Matthew adds here, what no other Evangelist does, that there was a great earthquake, and an angel rolled the stone away and sat on it. His appearance was dazzling like lightning, and his raiment white as snow; through fear of him the watchers trembled and became as helpless as dead men. The Greek word for angel means "one who is sent as a messenger." The angel "answered" the look of amazement and fear of the women and said: "Fear not ye, for I know that ye seek Jesus who hath been crucified." "The for" gives a reason for the soothing tone of the address. The angel recognizes them as friends of the Crucified.—A. B. Bruce. Then he added the amazing news: "He is not here; for He is risen even as He said." See Matthew 12:40; 16:21; 27:63. "Come," he further added, "see the place where the Lord lay." The condition of the tomb as seen by Peter and John is described in John 20:5-7.

The Glad Message, verses 7, 8.—They were not to stand long in mute amazement, but were to carry the glad news to others: "Go quickly, and tell His disciples, He is risen from the dead; and lo, He goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see Him: lo, I have told you." Recall His promise to the disciples Matthew 26:32.

The Final Interview and Commission, verses 16-20.—"All authority hath been given unto Me in heaven and on earth"; in these words Jesus asserted His royal authority; His right to command rested upon the fact that He is King. The future of His Kingdom was His supreme concern, and He proceeded to issue His royal command: "Go ye therefore, and make disciples of all nations, baptizing them into the name," i.e., confessing the name, "of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I commanded you."

No Longer a Mystery

New Zealand Trade Commissioner Knows Why Canada Imports Sausage Casings

"Until I went to Canada in 1926, I could never understand why the Canadians spent so much money in importing sausage casings from New Zealand—about $70,000 pounds a year it is now," said Mr. J. W. Collins, New Zealand Trade Commissioner to Canada, at the Auckland Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

"I found the explanation when I landed at Vancouver, and went to a football match. I was accosted by a small boy, who solicited business in these words, 'Hot Dogs, 10 cents. Good for folks.'"

"In my travels through Canada I soon came to realize the enormous production and sale of the so-called 'hot-dog,' and I did all I possibly could to increase the production of that delectable food. When I am among the Canadians again, I am going to use my best efforts to induce them to put in a bit of butter with the bread and mustard that always accompany the 'hot-dog.' If they do, it will mean at least another 10,000 tons a year of sausage casings from New Zealand."—Morning Herald, Auckland.

"Not he," said Grandma, "but he must have been made of India rubber to get off as easy as he did. Doctor Carter was just leaving the office, and the man landed right in his lap, so to speak, so he got a patient. I must say, if such a thing had to happen it was nice it happened where it did, on account of the doctor. It was most two hours before the man was fixed up and steady enough to go along. The doctor took two stitches and got paid three dollars. It was a real interesting morning, and four people came in this afternoon just to hear about it. Well, dearie, did Jim tell you the news?"

"News!" echoed Charmian, "I should say you'd told it yourself. You're out of breath, Grandma, with talking so long and fast. I'm sorry to be late, but Jim was going to East-boro and it seemed a pity to miss the ride when the foliage is so beautiful. I wish you could have seen it, too."

She turned toward the kitchen, the impending meal on her mind, but the old lady stopped her with a question: "But didn't he tell you about his mother?"

Charmian came back to ask: "What about his mother? He never mentioned her."

"You must have made yourself extra diverting then," said Grandma seriously. "George K. stopped in, and 'twas he told me the news. It doesn't seem hardly believable—but Sarah Bennett's going to California!"

"To California!" repeated Charmian in amazement. "And leave Jim?"

"My stars!" ejaculated the old lady. "Don't you know that Sarah Bennett wouldn't any more think of going without Jim than she'd think of going without a pocket handkerchief? It seems she hasn't been feeling very well, and Edward Howe thought a warm climate might help her. Her twin sister, Sophie, lives somewhere out that way, and they're going to her. What's more, George K. says if the climate agrees with her, the chances are they'll never come back! Didn't I say it had been an exciting day?"

CHAPTER XVII.

That night when she lay in bed, staring at a crack in the ceiling that showed weirdly bright in the light of the harvest moon, Charmian wondered if the evening meal had been fit to eat. She had gone about its preparation in a daze, wondering why Jim hadn't spoken of this big change in his life—feeling hurt that he wouldn't have confided in her—wondering how Wickfield would seem without her old playmate to drop in of an evening, or to pick her up after school hours as he had today—telling herself vigorously that she wasn't one bit in love with him—admitting in the next breath that she would miss him terribly. The clock in the Town Hall tower struck midnight before she closed her eyes.

Yet it had been a diverting evening because the Merrys had stopped in for a chat with Grandma. Doctor Howe, also, had drawn up before the door, and summoning Charmian outside with his familiar whistle, told her not to worry about her "job," that the school board would uphold her in case of trouble.

"But don't let Grandma hear a word about it," she implored him. "Has the deacon been to you already?"

"Not he!" smiled the old man. "He knows too well whose side I'm liable to take. I heard the story from Jim Bennett. Guess he thought I'd better be prepared. Good-night, child. I won't say a word to Grandma; but you can count on me in an emergency; and, if I know him, you can count on George K., too. Don't lose your sleep."

This short encounter had brought Charmian's thoughts around to Jim, from whom they had wandered during the Merry's call; but they were switched away again by John Carter, who was teaching Grandma three-handed bridge and wanted Charmian's assistance. They sat up till the unheard-of hour of ten!

Yet despite all these diversions, Charmian couldn't rest. Her anxiety about the trouble with Deacon Purdie, and her hurt that Jim hadn't spoken of his plans, were poor bed-fellows. She looked big-eyed next morning, and the doctor said at breakfast: "You didn't sleep well, did you?"

"Do you keep an X-ray machine back of those eyes of yours?" she asked. "No, I didn't sleep—that is, restfully. Our bridge game was too exciting. I felt as if I'd imbibed a pint of coffee."

"I'll drive you to school," offered the M.D.

The girl shook her head. "I'm just as grateful, but I need exercise, and it's a gorgeous morning for a walk."

"I kind of suspect," said Grandma softly, as Charmian left them, going to the kitchen to prepare their lunch, "that she's bothered because Jim Bennett didn't tell her he was going to California. Seems funny, doesn't it? He never said a word about it; and so far as I know, no one else in Wickfield has ever been west of the Mississippi except George K. and Salina. They took a trip on their silver wedding anniversary—a delayed honeymoon, George K. called it, because they hadn't the money to take them when they were married. They went most everywhere—Yellowstone National Park, the Grand Canyon, and San Francisco, though I should think they'd have been afraid of earthquakes."

"Well, Doctor, I wonder will anybody break a neck in front of your office this morning. That accident was fortunate to happen where it did; but I guess if Lizzie Baker had seen the narrow escape her cat had, she'd have had a spasm."

It was not a longing for exercise which made Charmian refuse the doctor's offer of a ride that morning, but a desire to walk off the depression that still persisted. She felt not only depressed, she told herself as she stepped out into the clear October sunshine, but irritable. Why should she care because Jim Bennett had let her hear the news of him from some one else?

"I wish," she scolded, as she passed the portals of the First National Bank, "I wish I could put Jim and his affairs out of my mind for ever and ever!"—which shows that the irritability was not imagined. But this wish, ardent though it sounded, was not to be fulfilled. It was George K. Knowles, issuing from his wide, hospitable doorway, who again reminded her of her old chum.

"Hold on a minute!" he called, as Charmian waved a greeting; and giving his Salina an unabashed and hasty kiss, he fell into step with the new school teacher, although her destination was opposite to his.

"Just wanted to tell you not to

WHY SUFFER FROM YOUR LIVER?

Why be handicapped with unsightly blotches on the face, eyes with yellow tinge and that tired and languid feeling? This indicates a torpid liver.

worry about the school," he began at once. "The board will uphold you as long as the doctor and yours truly are elected. Just stick to what you know is right, my dear, and the deacon will have to crawl. What'll you do, Charmian, when Jim Bennett isn't here to fight your battles?"

His kind blue eyes smiled at her as she retorted: "Fight them myself, or surrender ignominiously to the enemy." But her rising color didn't escape George K., whose heart was young in spite of his gray hairs, and he said soberly:

"You won't be the only one in Wickfield to miss the boy, my dear. He's fast becoming my right-hand man. His father was my best friend, too—a good man was James Bennett, married to a selfish woman. Salina would take my head off for saying so; but I guess you know the truth. If Jim's father had lived, Sarah would have ruined his life most likely, and now she's doing her best to ruin Jim's."

"He should stick up for his rights, then," said Charmian coldly, and lifted her chin the least bit higher.

George K. cast upon her a sidelong glance.

"Did you ever live in the house with Sarah Bennett?"

"Did you?" Charmian countered.

"No, thank God!" George K. exploded, "but I know her kind. They break the spirit after a while, Charmian, and Jim, poor boy, has known no other close companionship. Sometimes I wonder how he's kept his sense of humor and his kind heart. Well," as they reached the corner where Main Street turned off toward District Four, "I'll be late at the bank if I escort you any farther. You'll remember not to worry?"

"I'll remember, Uncle George," she answered gratefully, "and—thanks."

To Grandma the morning seemed to drag. John Carter had left shortly after breakfast, and even the R.F.D. man was behind time, so couldn't he brought was an advertisement! Grandma tossed it scornfully into the waste basket, and wished that something interesting would occur.

"Seems as if Wickfield was never so still before," she complained aloud. "All I've seen is Lizzie Baker hanging out her dish towels, and Mr. Merry hurrying home from the post office with the paper. The children haven't had any fights, or the dogs, either! Here come an auto. I do believe it's Jimmy, and he's stopping."

She was right. Jim drew up before the door, got out, kicked a suspicious looking tire, and then came in.

Showed Canada's Efficiency

Opening Day At Antwerp Exhibition Found Building Complete To Last Detail

"Canada scored signally in the early weeks of the International Exhibition at Antwerp, and continues to lead and dominate the Fair," said E. T. Noltie, Director of Exhibits (Department of Immigration and Colonization), Canadian Pacific Railway, on his return from that exhibition, which still has six months to run. "The reason for Canada's prominence," Mr. Noltie explained, "is Canada alone of all the participating countries, had her building set up and finished, inside and out, on time. Not only that, but the whole area of the Canadian Pavilion was complete in the last detail of lawn and walks, shrubbery, hedge and flower beds. The whole ensemble, in fact, was a striking achievement which, in a singular manner, gave an impression of efficiency that was decidedly a feather in Canada's cap."

WHEN YOUR CHILD IS FEVERISH

Give Him Baby's Own Tablets

The health of babies and little children is subject to rapid changes. Thus the mother must be on her guard. At the first sign of feverishness Baby's Own Tablets should be given—this may avert a serious illness.

Concerning the Tablets Mrs. Norman Lee, Uxbridge, Ont., says: "My little boy, now three years old, was not at all well. He was feverish and had no appetite. I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and he was soon well again. I would not be without the Tablets as long as there are young children in the house."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Travels Hour Every Day

Traffic statisticians have figured out that one hour a day of the average Berliner's time is consumed riding on omnibuses, street cars or elevated or underground trains. This amounts to 13 full days a year.

Little Helps For This Week

"That ye love one another."—John xiv. 17.

Give thy heart's best treasures,
From fair Nature learn;
Give thy love, and ask not,
Wait not a return.
And the more thou spendest
From thy little store,
With a double bounty
God will give thee more.
—Adelaide Anne Procter.

The beautiful law of Christian love, life, and truth is, that the more we give of our won capital the more that capital increases. The widow's cruse of oil and barrel of meal increased as she distributed them; and a Christian's sunshine and happiness, faith and hope, will be invigorated and multiplied in proportion as he tries to make others hopeful, trustful, and happy.—John Cumming.

The use of Miller's Worm Powders insures healthy children so far as the ailments attributable to worms are concerned. A high mortality among children is traceable to worms. These sap the strength of infants so that they are unable to maintain the battle of life and succumb to weakness. This preparation gives promise of health and keeps it.

"SINS OF THE FATHERS" TO SHOW HERE THIS WEEK

The following is a short synopsis of the picture "Sins of His Fathers," which will show at the Carbon Theatre on Friday and Saturday of this week.

A son is born to Wilhelm Spengler, German-American waiter at the Ritz. Ambitious for his boy, Spengler starts a restaurant of his own. His success and happiness are marred when Gretta, an unprincipled adventuress, breaks up his home.

Mother Spengler, his wife, ill from over work, dies broken hearted when she sees Spengler kiss Gretta. Spengler, at her bedside, is deeply repentant, but Gretta's charms win him back. He marries her. His daughter, May, and her sweetheart, a waiter in the cafe, are ordered from the home when they quarrel with Gretta.

With Gretta actually in charge, the character of the cafe running changes. Wild liquor parties drive out Spengler's old German friends. Then prohibition comes. Spengler goes out of business, but Gretta appeals to his ambition for his son and persuades him to become a bootlegger. Gretta makes Gus, her lover, his assistant. Spengler becomes king of the bootleggers, amasses a great fortune. His boy attends the best schools. They live in a fine house. Gretta carries on her many love intrigues, even having an affair with the butler. The night the son returns from college, Spengler prepares a family feast, but he eats alone. Gretta has gone out with a worthless count. The son celebrates his return at a nightclub and he gets very drunk on liquor that he knows is his father's brand.

That same night, a hijacker with a grudge against Spengler tells the police of Spengler's huge still. Gus learns of this and tries to telephone a warning to Spengler but just then the son staggers home drunk. Suddenly he goes blind.

So great is Spengler's grief and concern over his son's fate that he is oblivious of developments. Gus and Gretta run away with all the cash they can find.

His fortune gone, his son blind, and himself serving a prison term, Spengler is a broken old man. Good behaviour wins him an early release, however, and he obtains work as a waiter in a picnic garden. One day he waits on his son, who has won fame as a novelist. They recognize each other. The daughter and Otto come up and the son effects reconciliation, with the broken old man restored to his family and ultimate happiness.

Who Does Your Printing?

All business houses need more or less printed matter, all of which is within the possibilities of the local printer. Yet how prone many are to pass up the home printer and let the orders go to city offices which have no interest whatever in rural communities except to get printing orders and the cash to pay for them. Business men, remember that the home paper is constantly promoting the interests of the home community and you owe it to yourself and your local paper to back up these efforts by at least having your printed matter done locally.
